LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS SPONSORS
LECTURE BY PAUL GORDON LAUREN

MISSOULA--

The Montana League of Women Voters will sponsor a free lecture in three communities in April by Paul Gordon Lauren, University of Montana history professor and specialist in war and peace issues. He will speak at 7:30 p.m. at the Missoula public library April 7, at the Billings public library April 10, and at Lewis and Clark Library, Helena, April 21.

Lauren's topic is "Our Most Critical Challenge: National Security, Peace and the Fate of the Earth."

The lecture is presented in conjunction with the national League of Women Voters' study of national security and the arms race. It is funded by a grant from the Montana Committee for the Humanities, an affiliate of the National Endowment for the Arts.

At UM, Lauren teaches the Mansfield Course on International Relations. He has written books and articles on diplomacy and has had experience with peace and security issues in Washington, D.C., London, Paris, Bonn and, in New York, at the United Nations. He has been a Woodrow Wilson Fellow, and in 1980 he received a Rockefeller Foundation Humanities Fellowship to conduct international research on human rights, discrimination and diplomacy.

Lauren holds a doctorate from Stanford University, where he has also taught.
